

Quilters' Connection Yahoo!Group

The Yahoo Group chair maintains the group QCquilters@yahoogroups.com . This entails keeping track of the group membership, making sure only current QC members are included in the group, and inviting and accepting new members.

The Yahoo group manager's job is simple: to make sure only QC members are in the group and to approve additional members to the group. The most time-consuming work is done at the beginning of the new QC year, when the membership list must be compared to the Yahoo group list. It is done one by one, and there is no easy way to do it. Members have one email address for personal use and another yahoo address in order to join the group. Alphabetical order is non-existent in Yahoo. It can become quite confusing. During the rest of the QC year this job is a breeze.
